Liberal Arts

BREAKING OUT OF BOX

“ The School of Liberal Arts (SLA) at the University of Management and Technology is a unique emergence on Pakistan's educational horizons that promises to create a new generation of informed thinkers, writers and professionals in multiple fields. The School has on its faculty highly qualified instructors with postgraduate and doctoral degrees from renowned national and international universities. With the support of Computer Assisted Learning, outcome-based curriculum and specialized software, SLA practices cutting-edge pedagogical techniques. Scholarly activities are an integral part of SLA's culture, including seminars, webinars, lectures, exhibitions, performances, panel discussions, guest speaker series, interdisciplinary projects, research symposia, student-led initiatives, academic conferences, educational and recreational tours, and skill-building workshops. ”

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Torn between the demands of fast-growing global economies and the desire to aesthetically enjoy the creative and literary endeavors of great minds, today's youth find it hard to make informed academic decisions. SLA of Liberal Arts (SLA) aims to rescue such inquisitive and confusing youthful energies from this dilemma and provide them a comprehensive platform where they wallow in the beauty of the 'word' as well as experience an intellectually enriching, satiating, and re-search-oriented environment that could shape them into professionally successful and responsible human beings. SLA prepares its participants to become leaders of tomorrow by not only helping them adopt traits such as integrity, confidence, discipline, and honesty but also infusing in them the spirit of empathy and humility along with a strong sense of morality.
