Internship at Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR)

OCLP facilitated student internships at ISPR, providing participants with valuable exposure to the armed forces, community engagement as a citizen role. The program included interactive lectures, knowledge-sharing sessions, and visits to the Lahore Shooting Gallery, Wagah Border, and Lahore Museum, offering students a well-rounded learning experience. Reflecting on the opportunity, one student remarked, "It was a learning journey full of insights, exposure, and new perspectives."

MoU's Signed | August 2025

At OCLP, MoU collaborations with industry play a pivotal role in fostering student development through placements in FSP and CO-OP programs, professional grooming sessions, guest lectures, exposure to industry best practices, mock interviews, and recruitment drives, bridging academia with the corporate world.

CO-OP Program (Cooperative Experiential Learning)

UMT's Co-Op Program (Cooperative Experiential Learning) bridges academic learning with real-world experience by placing final-semester students in full-time industry roles. This allows students to apply their knowledge in professional settings while companies identify and mentor future talent. OCLP has successfully placed over 170 students, many now working in permanent roles at top companies. The Co-Op Fall 2025 campaign has officially commenced.

01

Nominations completed from schools

02

Student meetings conducted for screening and placement preferences.

03

Outreach to industries for placements is underway

04

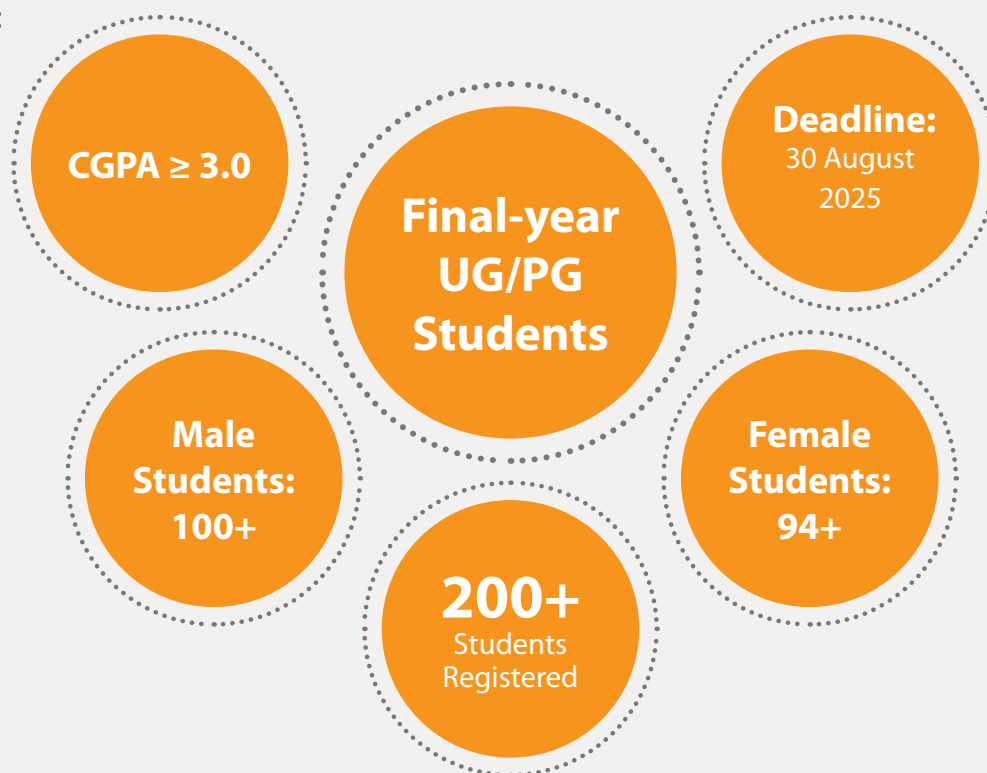

Student interviews for final placement are currently in progress.

High Potential League (HPL)

Empowering UMT's top students with real-world career skills.

Student Testimonial

As a student of UMT and an intern at the Office of Corporate Linkages and Placement (OCLP), my experience has been both meaningful and transformative. Alongside my studies, working at OCLP has allowed me to gain practical exposure to a professional environment while still being connected to my academic journey. During my internship, I have been involved in preparing internship letters, coordinating with students, managing records, and assisting in communication and follow-ups. These tasks have strengthened my organizational, technical, and interpersonal skills, while also teaching me the importance of precision and professionalism. What I truly value is the supportive and collaborative culture at OCLP, where learning is encouraged and guidance is always available. Balancing academic responsibilities with meaningful office work has helped me grow more confident, responsible, and motivated. Being part of OCLP as both a UMT student and an intern has been a rewarding journey that continues to shape my personal and professional development.
